Projects

websight

Built an iOS app written in Swift that uses the device's camera and Apple's text recognition framework to detect URL's, emails, phone numbers, and addresses. websight then prompts users to perform actions based on what information is detected, such as getting directions to a detected address.

HueDeck

Designed and built a program that enables quick controls for Philips Hue lights for devices like a Raspberry Pi. Front end was built using HTML, CSS, and Javascript. Backend built using Python and the eel framework to tie everything together.

Websightapp.com

Developed a website to display my iOS app. Built with HTML, CSS, and the framework bootstrap.
